About eight years ago in Trees Center two girls stayed over Thanksgiving vacation. There was no one else on the floor, and they shared a room. They went to bed early, and during the middle of the night one of the girls awoke to find her friend not in her bed. She went looking for her, and in the restroom she heard a loud groan. She ran back to her room and soon heard scratching on the door. This continued for a long time, and the girl became frantic. Early in the morning she saw a milk truck go by and yelled out to the milkman to come up and help her. They planned that he would knock three times on her door. He did so, and they discovered that the person scratching on the door was her friend. Her throat was slit, and she soon died.
