Folk Tale

It was told that when new Smithwood dormitory opened at Indiana University a few years ago, a terrible incident occurred. There were a group of girls who dislike another girl because all she did was study and she was very unsociable. She also went to bed very early and disliked when they stayed up and talked. So, one of the girls had her boyfriend get an arm from the medical school lab. They brought the arm to the dorm and put it in the girls' bed. She went to bed and they didn't hear anything. Being curious, they went into the room to see her reaction. She was in the closet chewing on the arm. She had gone insane.
